

German-speaking student assistant for our marketing team

Do you speak fluently German, have interest in marketing and communication, and want real life working experience in a successful Danish Company? Then you might be Aduro's new student assistant.

Aduro develops, produces, and markets wood burning stoves, hybrid stoves and pellet stoves that combine excellent Danish design with innovative pro-environmental technology. With over 450,000 Aduro-users all over Europe, we have achieved a position amongst the five largest manufacturers in Europe. Germany is one of our largest markets, and we need you to help us continue our positive progress.

About the job

You will be responsible and have hands on experience with a variety of tasks:

- Responsible for planning and posting content on our German Facebook page and replying to messages.
- Write and translate inspiring content for our different digital platforms.
- Translate FAQ's and technical information.
- Implement changes and improvements on our different websites.
- Assist in ad hoc communication assignments as needed.

Your profile

- Native speaking in German and fluency in English.
- You love writing and can write in both an informal and a formal style.
- Dedicated focus on grammatical and idiomatic accuracy.
- Relevant educational background: preferably communication, journalism, marketing, or language with minimum 1½-2 years studies left.
- You are well organized and can work independently.
- You have flair for customer service.

We offer

- A part time position, approximately 5-8 hours a week, in a successful, international organization.
- A casual office environment with a great atmosphere.
- Flexibility: work here or from home – the days and hours that fit you best.
- A lot of responsibility and relevant working experience.
- Dedicated and competent marketing colleagues, who are always available to help you.
- The possibility to join our lunch arrangement.
